

PPTA Senior Positions Advisory Committee: the personal, the political, the professional

Sarah Dalton¹, TBC²

PPTA's senior positions advisory group, made up of elected AP/DP members from around NZ exists both to advise PPTA executive about matters pertaining to secondary schools leadership and management, as well as to develop better communications and networks across our AP/DP members.

Thanks to the work of this group some inroads are being made into regaining recognition for these roles within the collective agreement. However, this is much work still to do.

The SPAC team are in the process of developing a 3-year strategic plan for our work – and particularly with a view to building our professional and industrial profile. The committee has positive links with the NASDAP executive and sees this conference as an opportunity to speak directly with members as we develop our political and professional agenda for the next 3 years.
